

2011 Hall of Fame Inductee Bruce Bradshaw – Pueblo/Colorado Springs

Bruce Bradshaw was born on March 15, 1957 in Pueblo, Colorado to Janice and Robert Bradshaw, Sr. Bruce graduated from Central High School. He had a master's degree in education and mass communications. Bruce lived in Pueblo, Colorado until his unexpected death on June 8, 2010.

Bruce loved sports. In high school he played basketball and football, and during the summer months he played baseball. In later years when time permitted, Bruce loved playing golf, traveling and photography.

Bruce was an English teacher for 20 years at Wasson High School District No. 11. He was also active in the AVID program there. He was the head boys' basketball coach, as well as the golf coach at Wasson.

Bruce umpired for CHSBUA since 1992. He was the Area No. 3's Director of the Colorado High School Baseball Umpire Association for about 6 years. He also officiated several Colorado State Championships. Bruce spent countless hours over 15 years at Runyon Field as the assignor for the Andenocio Baseball Tournaments.

Bruce was very well-known around the state of Colorado and he was a mainstay for Southern Colorado baseball organizations and tournaments.